Progressive parties are a time to test your skills at some new activities. What kind of activities? Well, just about anything. It could be wrestling over a tire in the gym, or passing a lifesaver with toothpicks. Progressive parties are a unique experience.

Jacquie - This year has had its good moments and its bad moments, but all in all its been pretty neat... I'm super glad you were such a good friend. I wish you were coming back next year! Well summer's here, and wherever you go or are, I'll remember you...

Faculty Talent

Dear Jacquie,

I can't believe this year is almost over. It sure has been busy though. I'll always look back & remember the funtimes I had. Remember when I lived next door to you up on second wing, & also remember when you worked at Harris Umbrella. All in all I hope it was a good year for you. I wish you well coming back next year but I hope where-ever you go, that you will find happiness have a great summer & hope you can come up to Fontana for campmeeting. Jeff would love that. See ya later.

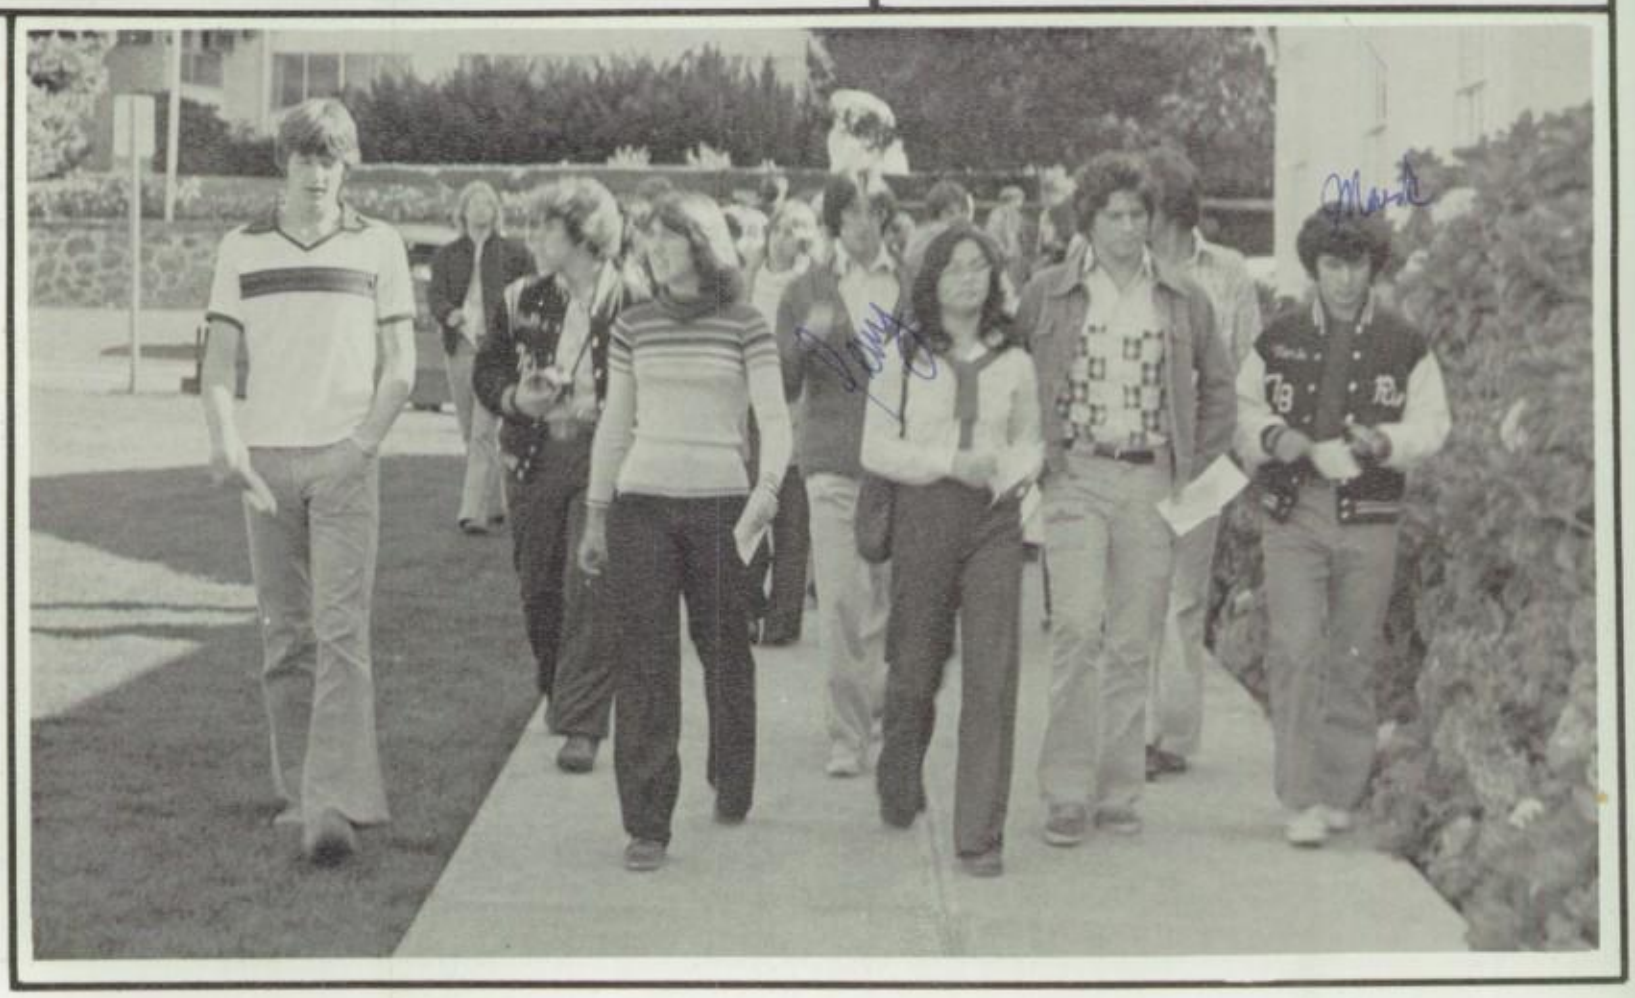
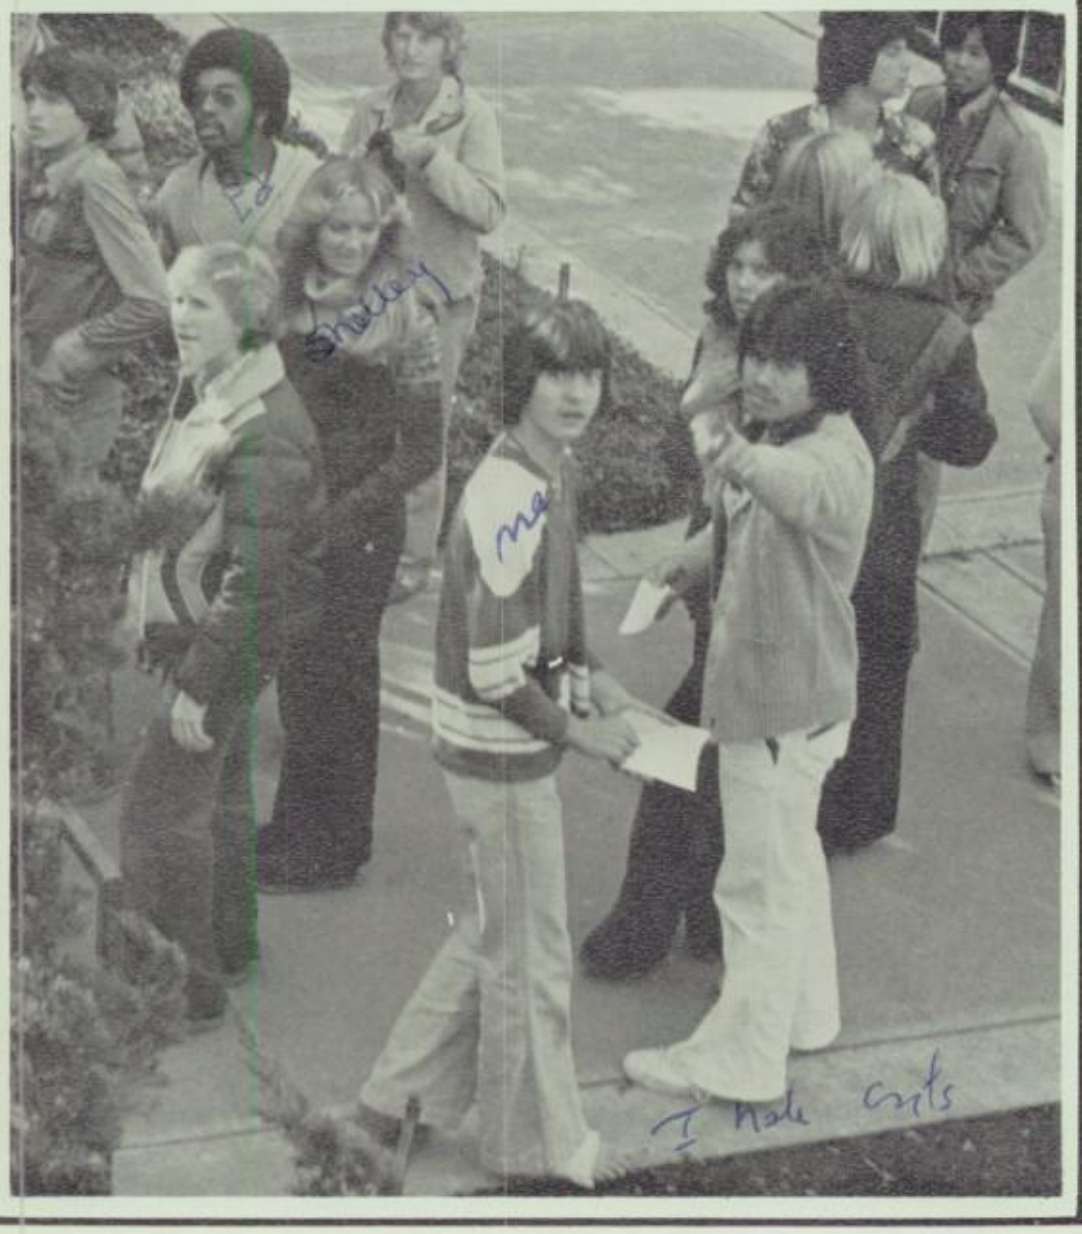
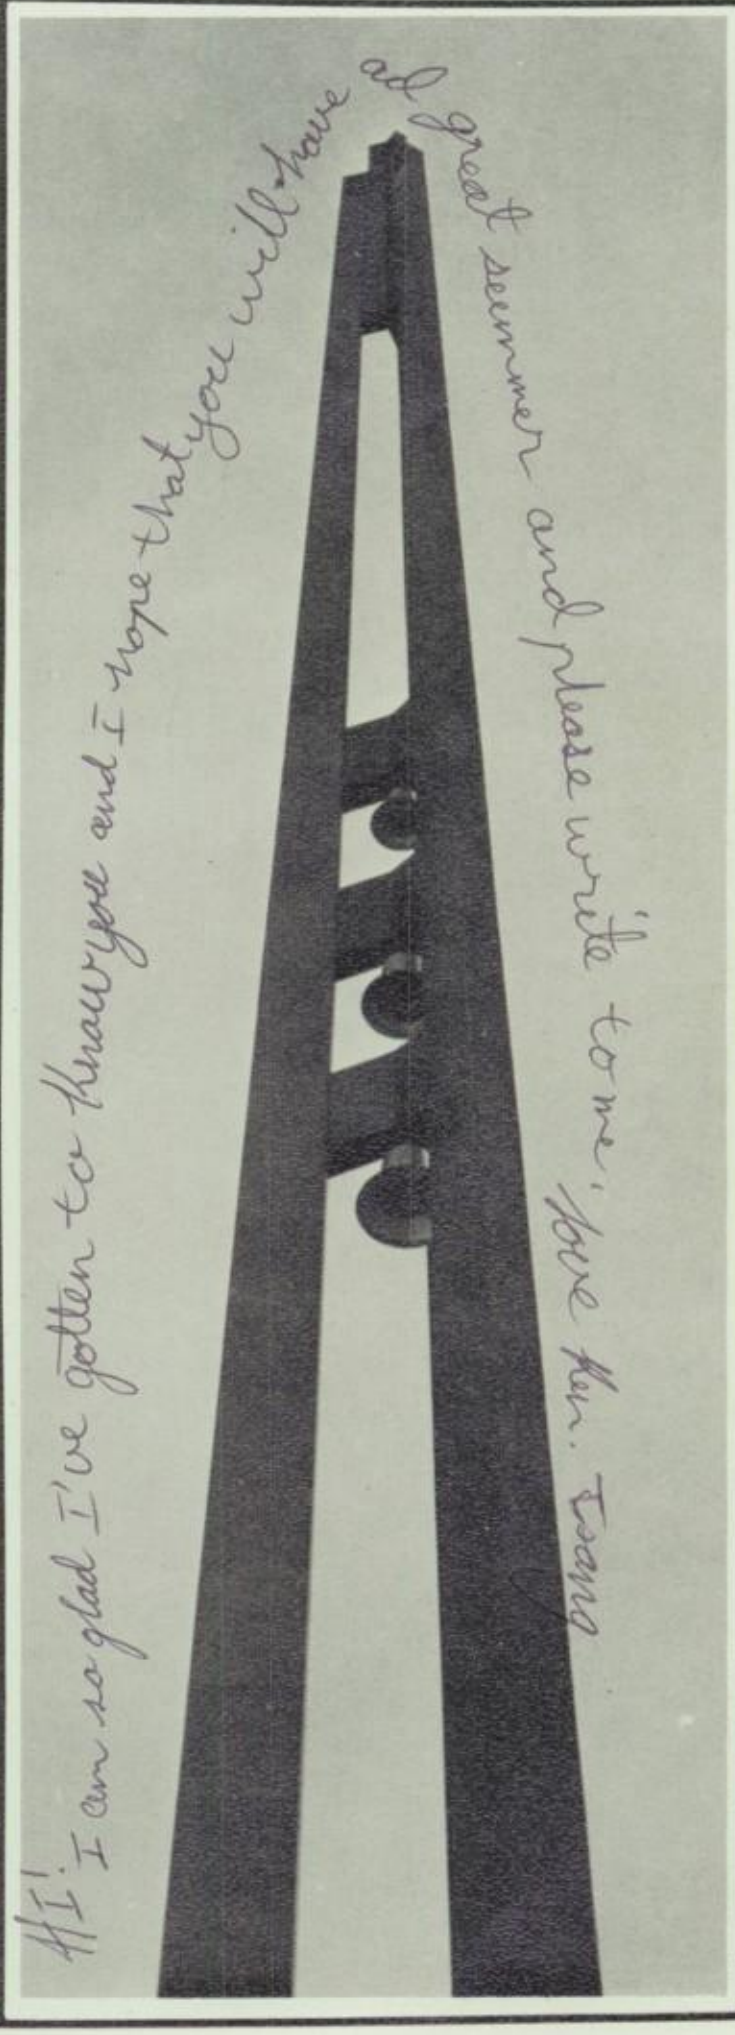
Many of the students do not know that the faculty have so much talent they can use . . . and misuse. The expertise of Mrs. Stephens as mistress of ceremonies, combined with the original acting abilities of the faculty, keeps us not only entertained, but reminds us that our teachers are just as human as we are.

Where will we be next year? Some of us will be taking our places in the world of work. Many of us will continue our education at college. College Day was our opportunity to get acquainted with Pacific Union College. Tours around campus and information about the various departments gave us some clues about what our lives might be like next year.



College Day





Hi! I am so glad I've gotten to know you and I hope that you will have a great summer and please write to me. Love Ken. Trang

Girls' Early Morning Breakfast:

Dear Jacque,
This year has had its good and bad times, do try and remember only the good ones, ok? Remember good ol' always gave your kitchen bad time. Remember the times we sat together at "playperiod"

I wish that you'd come

miss you! Love ya lots

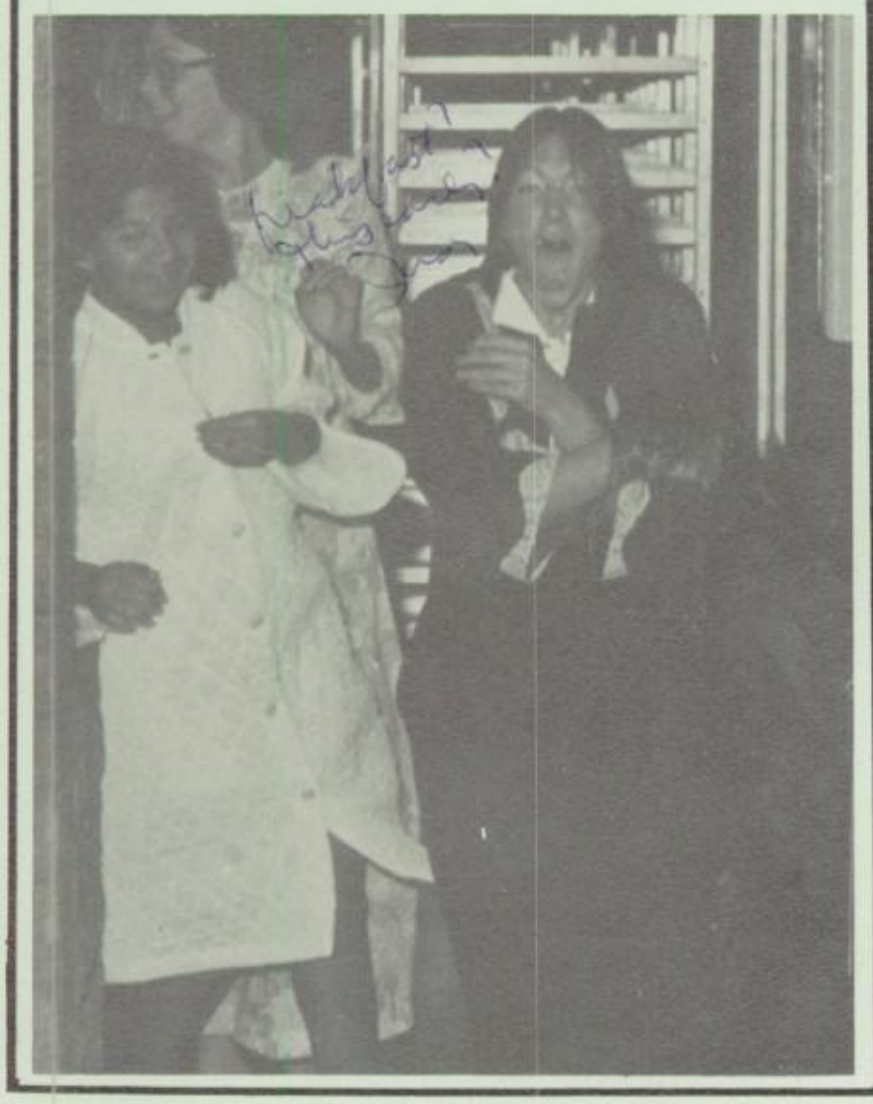
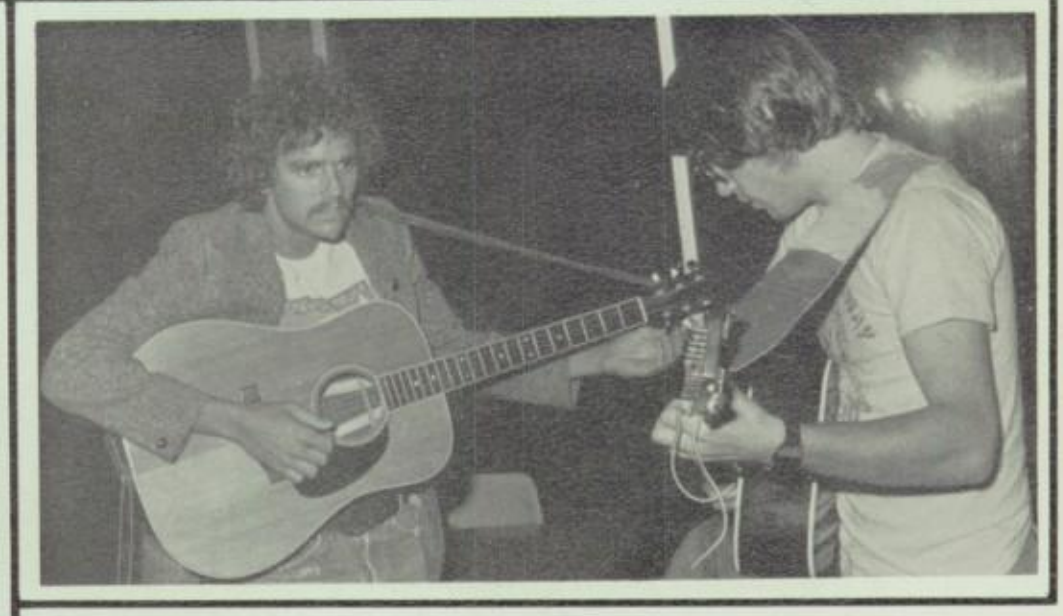
3:45 a.m.: A fire drill? Why? Is this really necessary? Where's the fire? What do you mean it's in the caf? Oh, it's breakfast. BREAKFAST?!?! Oh, the traditional Girls' Early Morning Breakfast. Whoopee, I got out of bed for this?

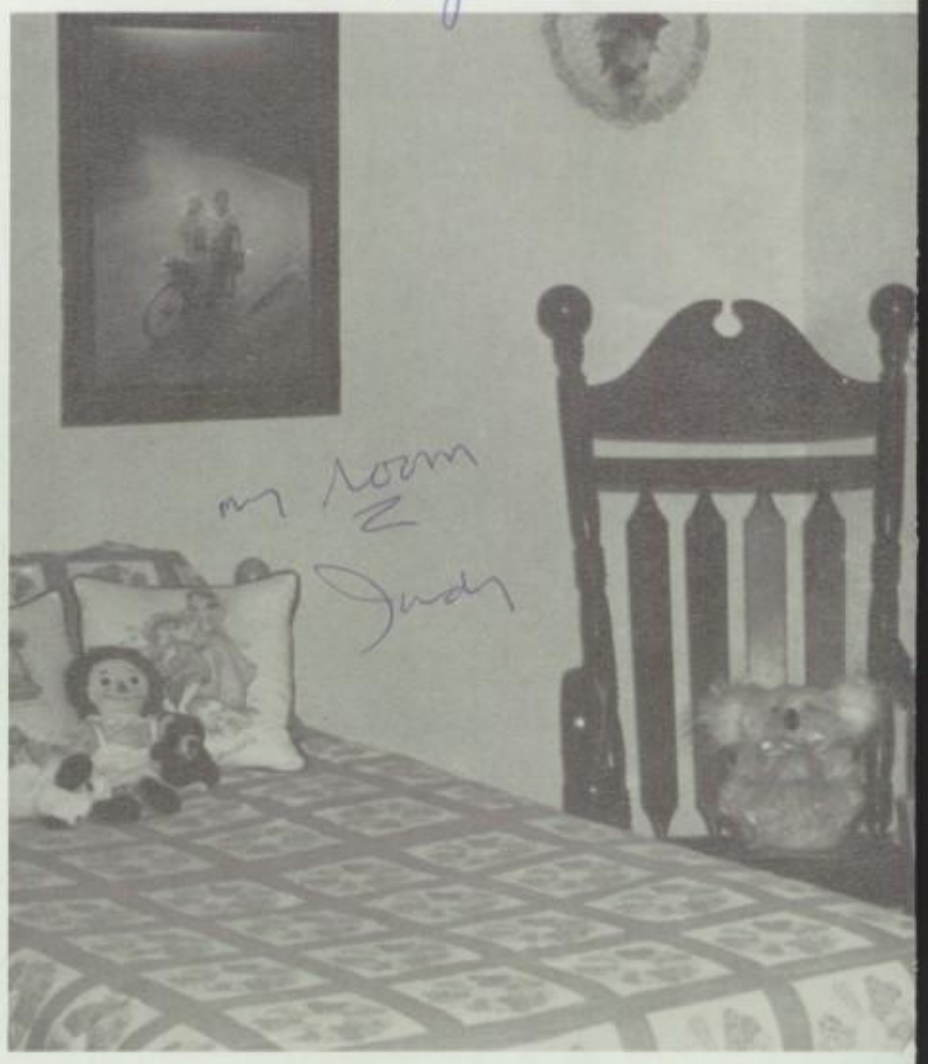




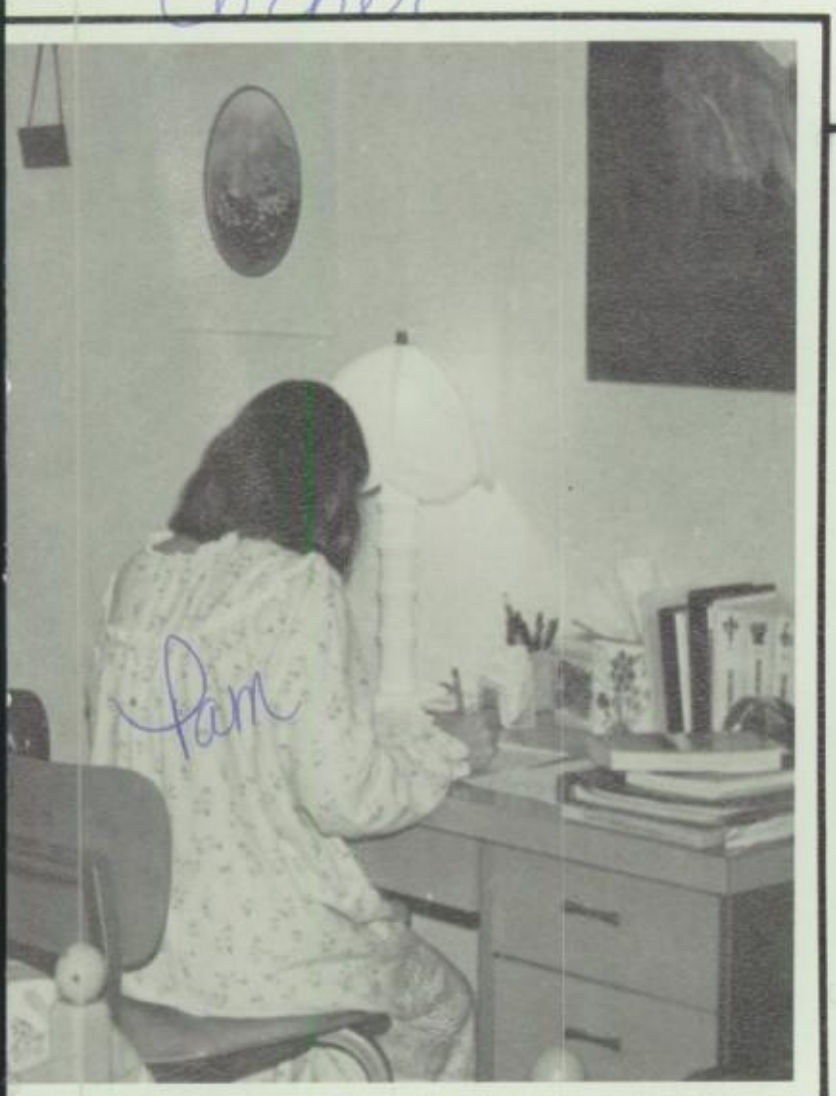
Girls' Dorm

Dear Jackie,
I'm really glad that we got stuck on the same hall. You are a real sweetie and I'll always be jealous of your tan. It really would be great if you came back next year. Love, Linda

"My



Corner



Hey,
I sure appreciate you as my friend. Do Bad you Dad didn't stay togetha but I guess that's life. Well I wish the best of everything in your future. Take care and take it easy!
Love Always,
Kitty L.

Among plants, Koala bears, Raggedy Anns, and hand lotion bottles, the female population of Rio studies for the next day's classes. Schoolwork seems to occupy the residents of the Girls' Dorm much of the time, but certainly not enough to keep them from playing ping-pong, playing guitars, or just plain talking. The dorm provides plenty of opportunities for recreation, such as taunting monitors and having water fights. But for a real change from the ordinary, grab the nearest cologne bottle and have a perfume fight!

Boys' Dorm

What is life like in the Boys' Dorm? It's sitting in a bean bag playing the part of monitor, reading for a government quiz late at night, lounging around in the lobby, and playing ping-pong in bare feet.

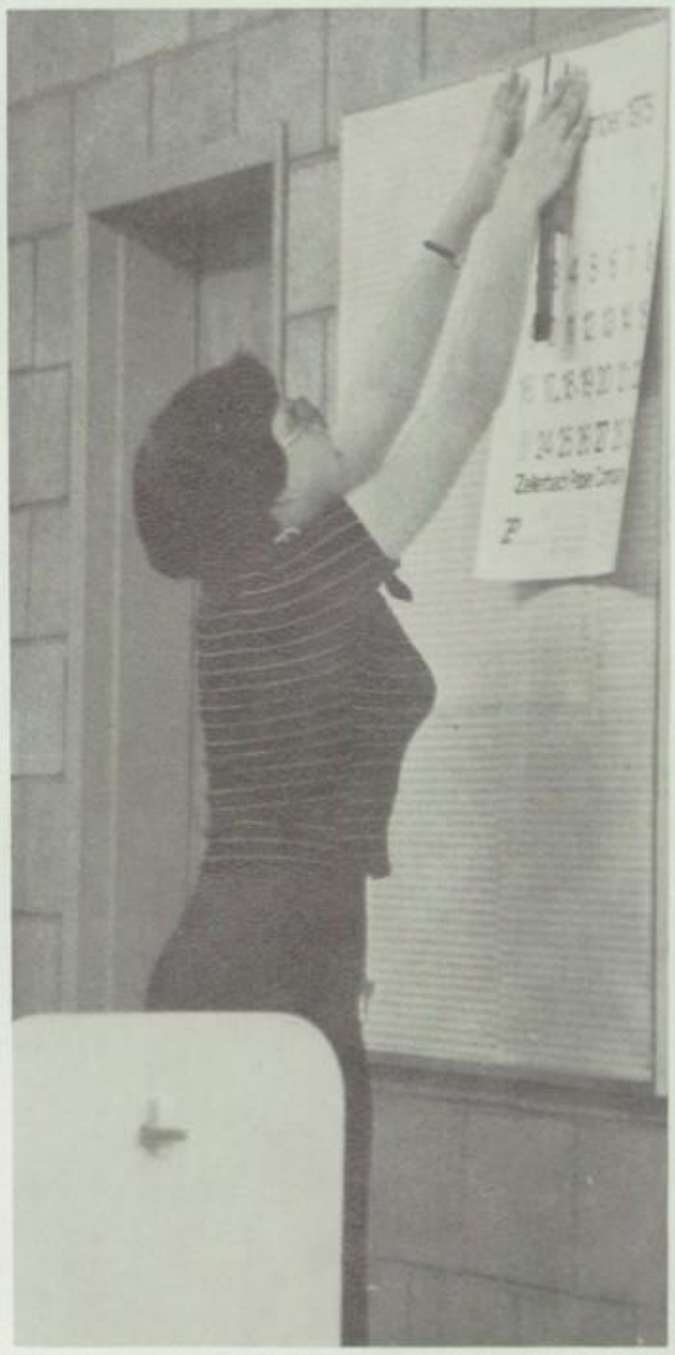
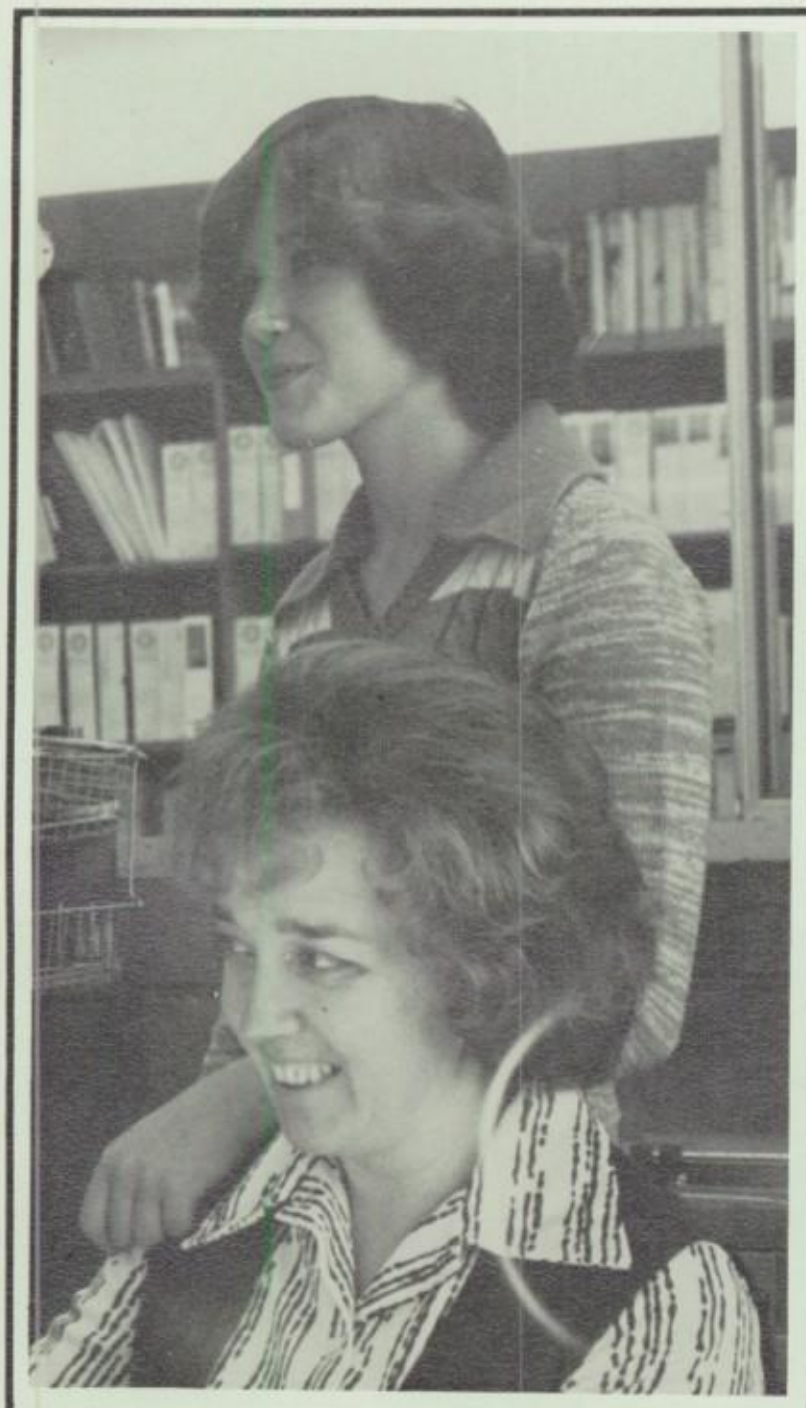
Who can estimate the knowledge gained from dorm life? What other experiences can teach one the secrets of sneaking out of the room while the monitor's back is turned? Where else can one learn the art of studying by a slowly dimming flashlight? How can any other place show one the way to dress in five seconds flat when the fire alarm goes off in the middle of the night? And what other institution develops the skill of walking into the showers at the moment of minimum people and maximum hot water?

Data Center—



To all who walk through its doors, the library is a place of change. For some, there is a change from ignorance to enlightenment as reference books are consulted. Others who enter bored may be entertained by the many current magazines. Those who may be discouraged can locate inspiration among the shelves of religious works. Some may wish to transport themselves via wings of paper to another time and place where history becomes meaningful. And there are those who are simply trying to find a place free from the normal bustle and noise of school in which to complete their assignments.

The Library



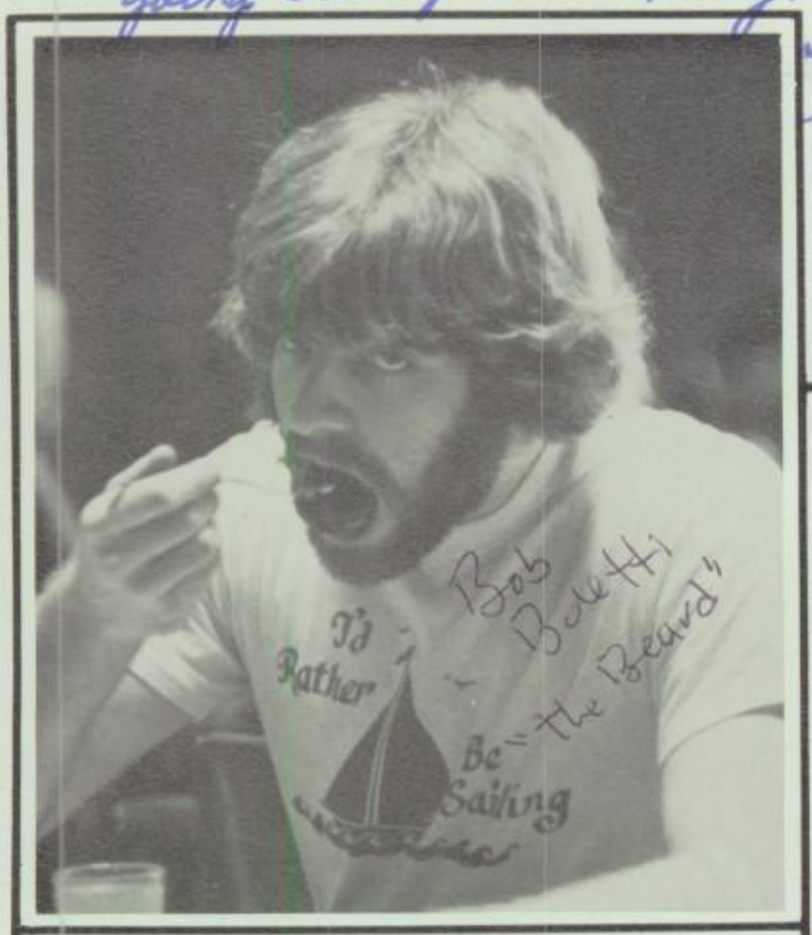
The constant task of maintaining organization falls to Mrs. Conley, the librarian, who is never too busy to answer questions or to aid in locating some needed information. The surroundings are always fresh, thanks in part to the artistic efforts of Audrey Beal, , one of the several librarian's assistants who help keep Rio's data banks in running order.

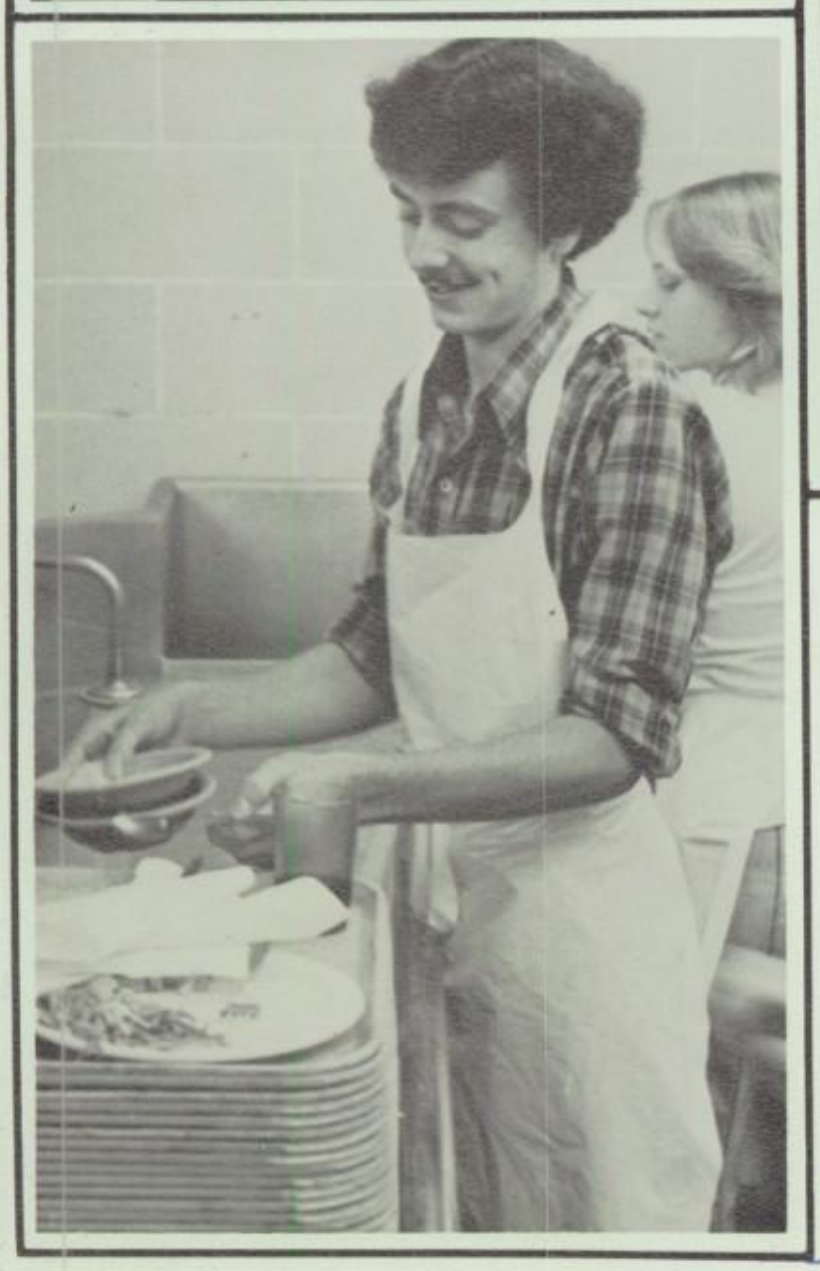
Dear Jackie
remember when the seniors (Guys) lost to the junior (Guys) at the river tug-of-war well we won every other event since then. the Seniors just have the muscle (Luv) we only lost because the juniors had more people. well I have had a great year this year and I am glad that I had your friendship this year. The school year this year has been a "blast" and I have had a tremendous amount of fun this year except for working at Harris pine but I hope you have had as much fun this year as I have had. and remember to write me during the summer so I can write back to you be good and have a great summer and next year just think you will be a senior and then "79" will be great Bye love always Bob Boletti

Cafe

Dear Jacquie,
I thought this would be a great place to start, since alot has happened between us in the cafe! Like remember when I was going steady with Davy. And you'd get so sick, cuz you had to sit & look at him. Or remember eating with "Dad". And Steve! How can't You get giving those cookies to "Dad" & going up (jogging) up to his house to beg Steve. Rooming with you has been so great. Even though there were a few times when I felt like) dumping water on you, for keeping up all hours of the night, by brutally attacking me & jumping on my bed! Oh well! Remember us being so cruel & cold to Julie Tucker! And also waking up bright & early by the beautiful warm rays of the sun. Jacquie, I'm going to miss you so much next year. It's going to be so hard to say good bye to you. You've been one of closest & best friends. Please keep in touch, wherever you go. I love you alot, and so does God. So keep praying and things will turn out. Please write to me over the summer, ok?

Love Always,
Your Roomie,
Penny





The cafeteria—not only a place to fill a hungry stomach, but also a great chance to socialize. Light-hearted banter involves most Rioites as they temporarily leave the world of school outside, save for a few souls who carry in "food for thought." Even though the old adage "you can't please all the people all the time" holds true, the cafeteria workers and cooks manage to beat the odds a good percentage of the time. Let a buffet or banquet appear on the calendar, and the cafe goes all out to prepare some of the most delicious meals anywhere. Perhaps we do complain about the food—but then, who are we to change tradition?

Looks like I'm praying

Speech: Rules

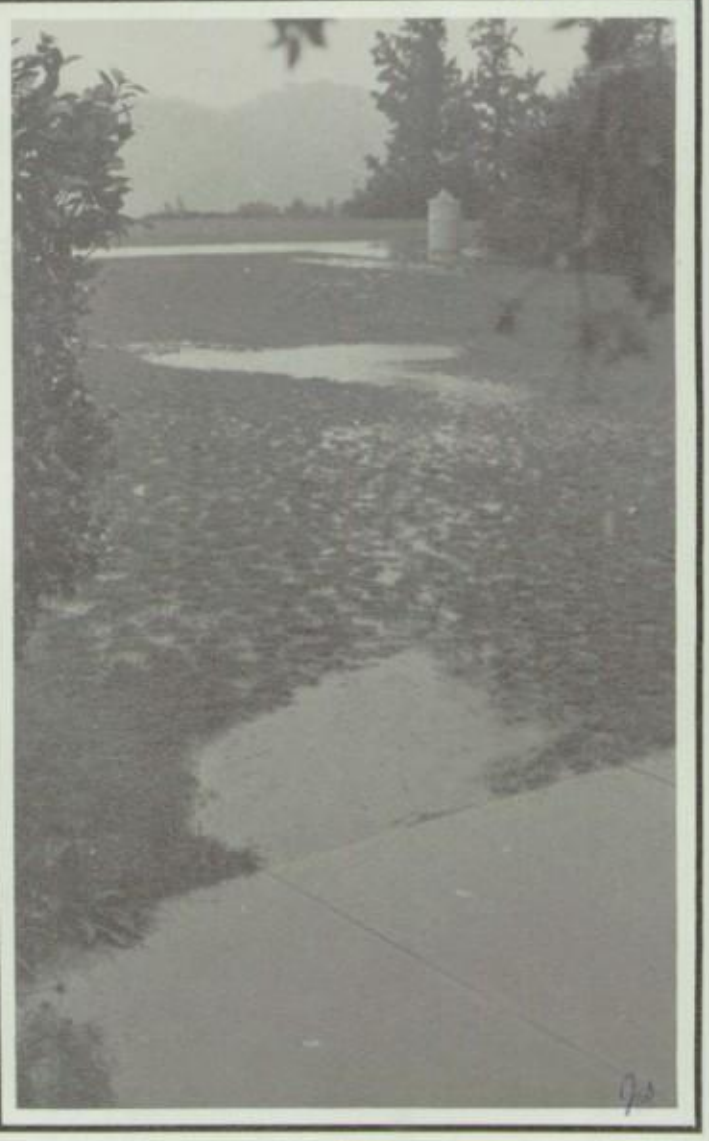
Saturday Night Live

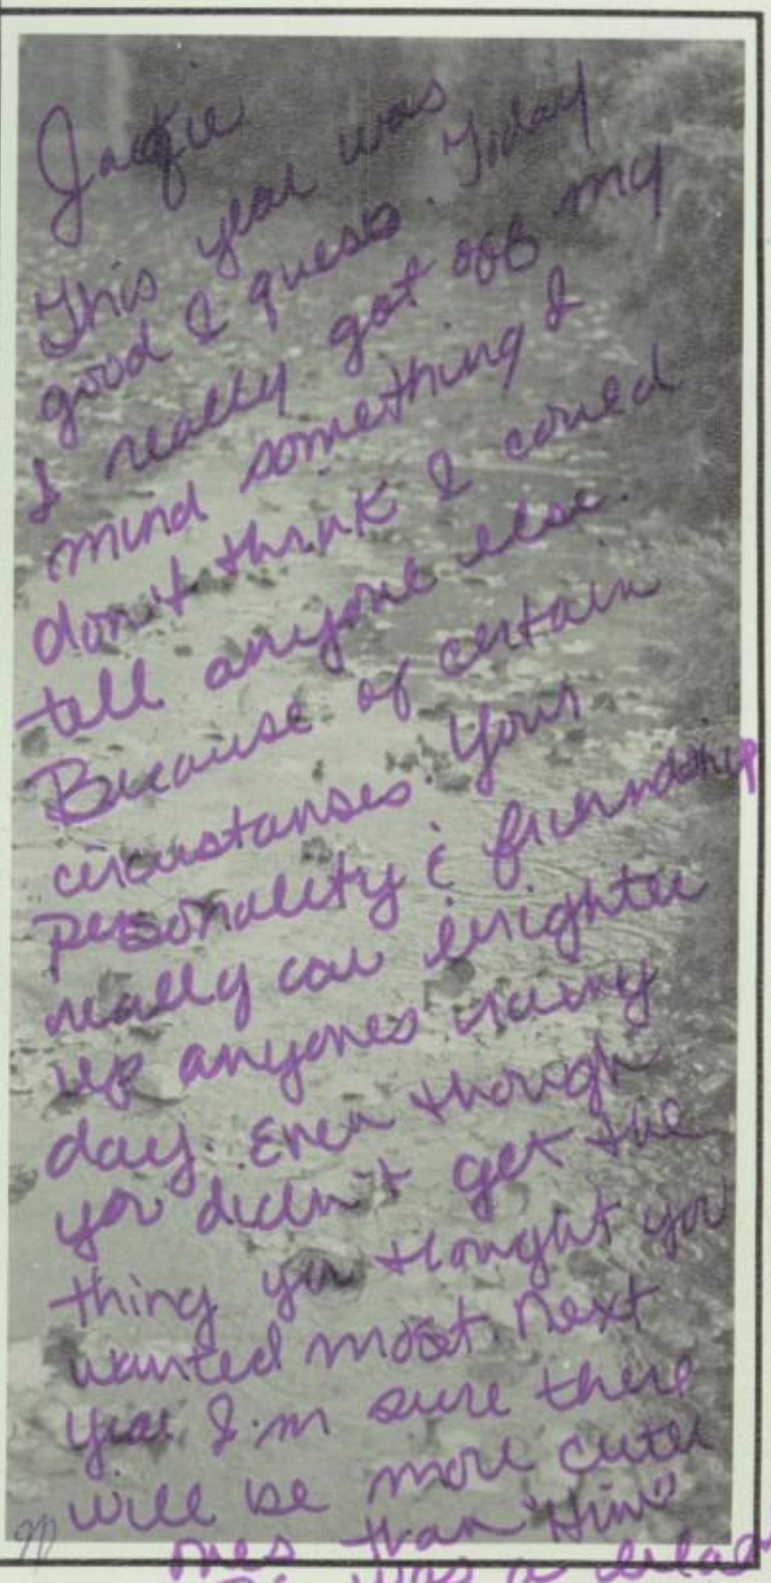
A new teacher, a new format, and a new group of students– Speech Class is like nothing in years previous. Mr. Stephens, affectionally called "Grendal" by his wards, teaches the various facets of public speaking: speechs, debate, interpretation, and drama. The latter provides laughs galore as Speech puts on their first Saturday Night Program.

A series of four plays gives everyone a chance to act. Spoofing everything from melodramas to Westerns, Speech fights over lovely heroines, yells at villians, fakes illnesses, and sends smoke signals billowing throughout the auditorium. Asked if it took any bravery to perform on stage, one character is rumored to have said, "Not brave–dumb!"

And It Rained . . .

After years without it, the rain has finally come.
Soaking Rio's campus, and almost everyone.
The sidewalks flood;
Donny plays in the mud. .





As students dash to class,
Worms wiggle, en masse,
While under umbrellas students and teachers are huddled,
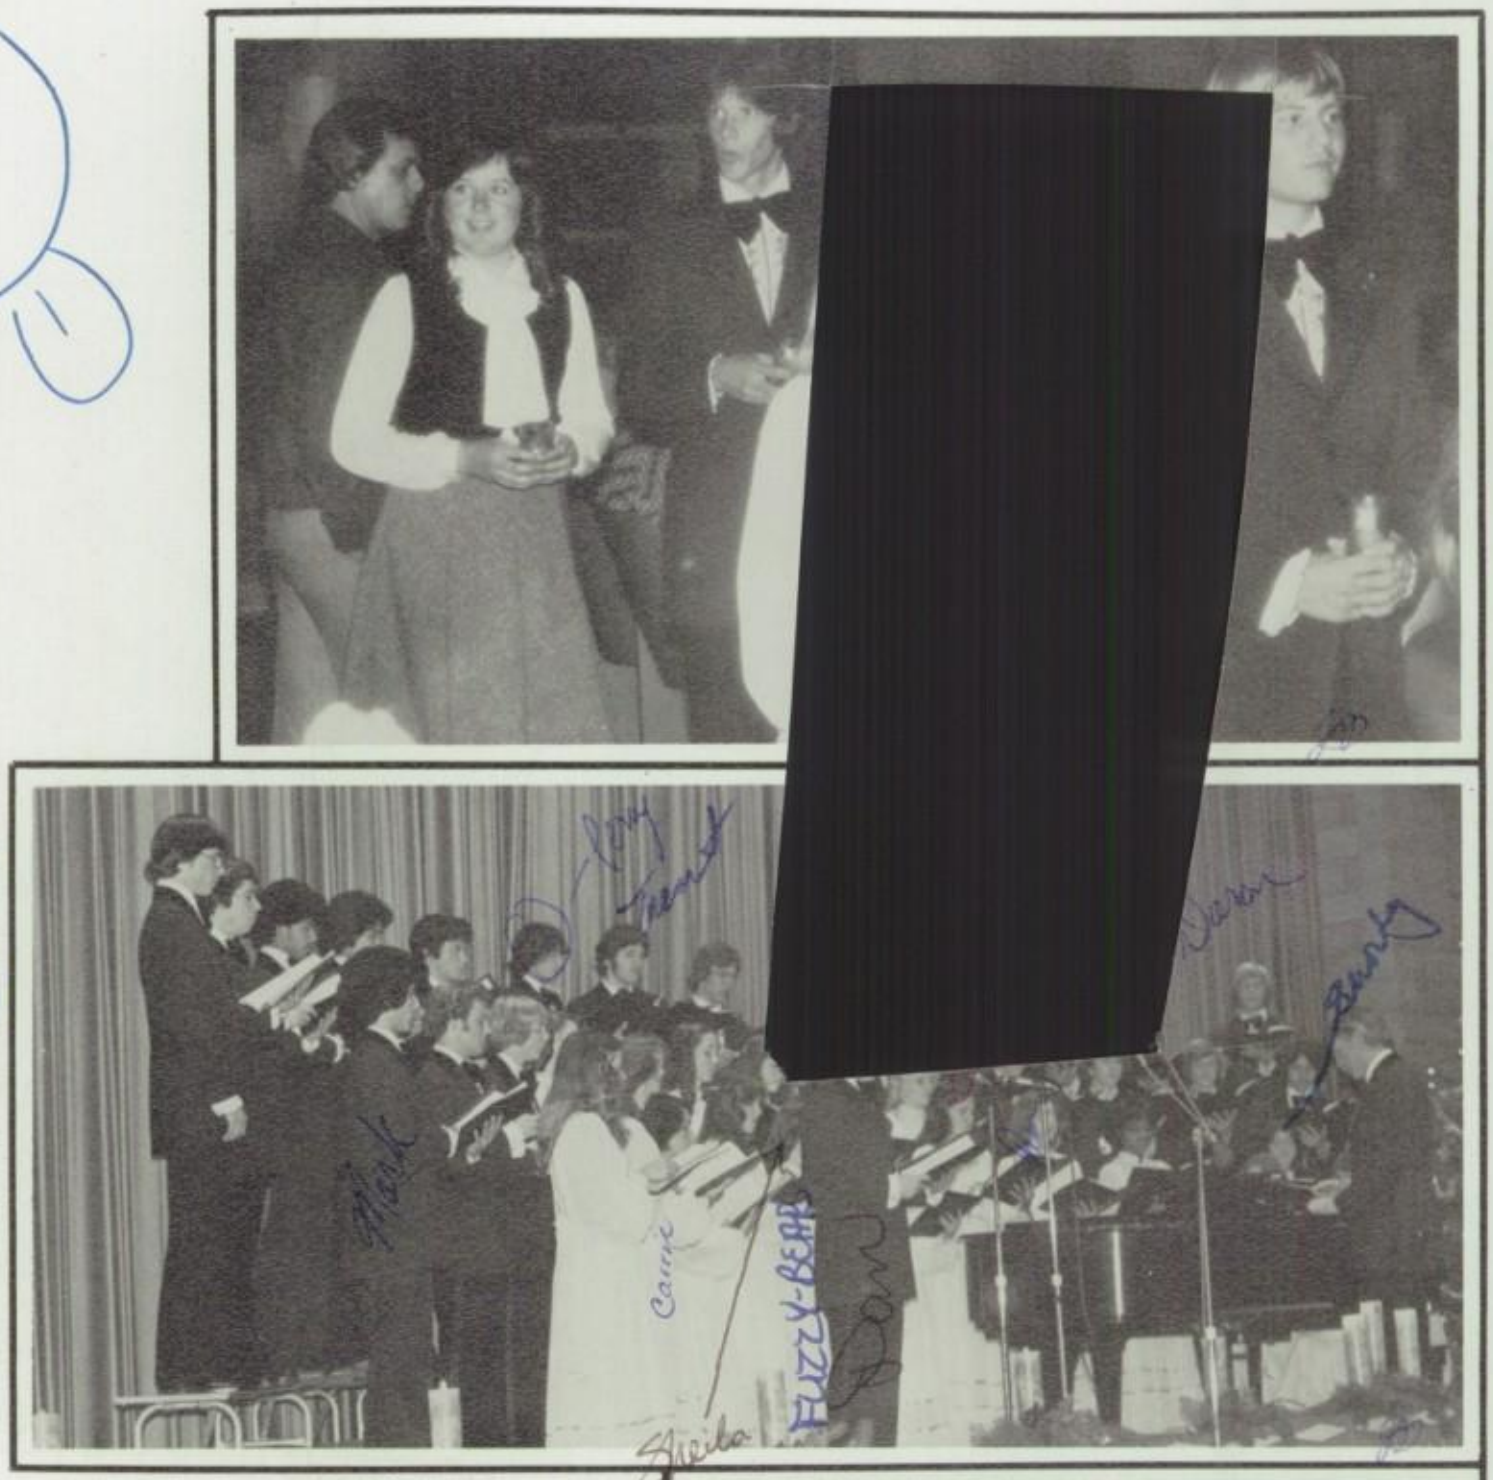
And the ground seems permanently be-puddled.

Candlelight Concert



Some things never change. The Candlelight Concert is one of Rio's finest traditions, presenting the best in Rio's musical talent. The Senior Lindaires and Wind Ensemble members open the concert with the candlelighting ceremony as the Junior Lindaires Girls' Chorus sing carols of the Christmas season from the balcony.

Wind Ensemble, under the direction of Mr. Lang, presents masterful renditions of such holiday favorites as "Festival of Lights" and "Holiday Sleigh Ride." Several individual performances, such as a flute trio, highlight the repertoire.

The Senior Piano Ensemble, composed of eight students at four pianos, display their talents with a medley of Christmas music.

Dear Jacquie, it has really been a great year, and I have really enjoyed getting to know you. Just think only a couple of more days and we will be Seniors. Well I hope you have an enjoyable summer and I really hope still see you next year. Love, Barry Lindaires, directed by Mr. McManaman, put on an equally brilliant program in the form of a cantata. Well known Christmas songs, including "Go, Tell It On the Mountain" and the ever-popular "Jingle Bells", are heard as never before as forty-two voices blend to make this concert one of the finest ever.

LAYOUT BY DRYDEN!

Christmas Banquet

Christmas! With the appearacne of an ornament-bedecked Christmas tree in the ad building lobby, the campus shed its usual business-like attitude and changes into a more festive attire.

The Christmas Banquet highlights the season. Outlandish invitations and equally outlandish replies are shuttled between the dorms for a week before the banquet. On a foggy Sunday evening, screams of "Here they come!" echo about the girls' dorm as the guys begin arriving to greet their dates, pin on corsages, and escort them to a sumptious meal.

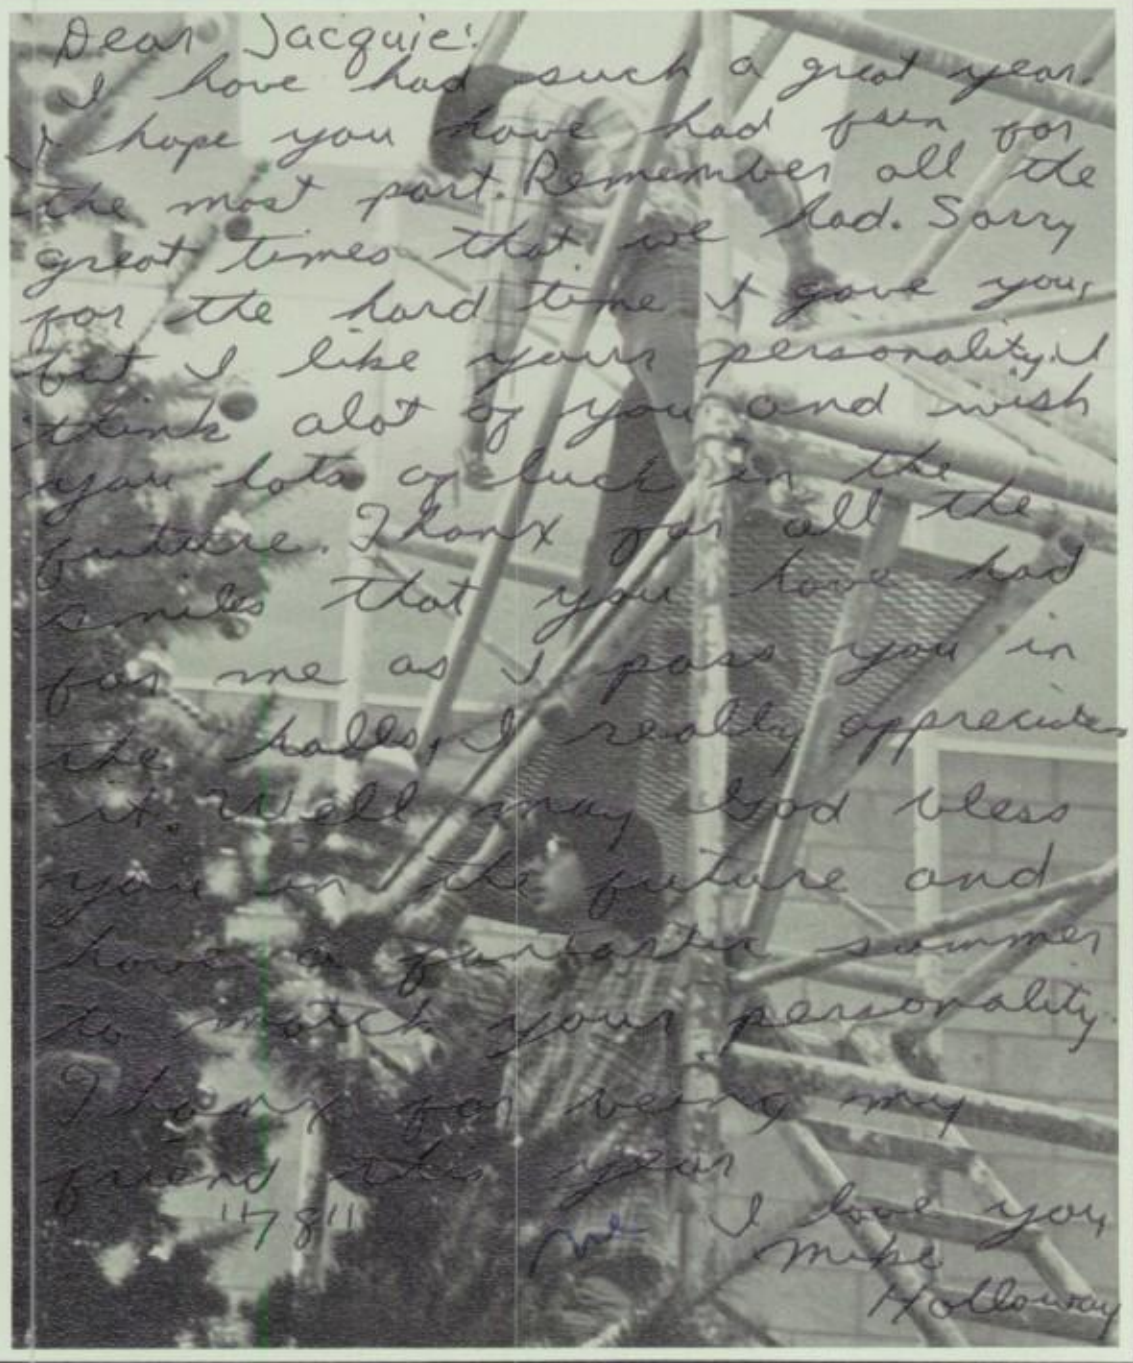
Dear Jackie,
This year sure has gone fast, just think only 4 more weeks. I hope you have a really great summer. And then come back all ready for the greatest year in history "79".
Love ya,
Cindy



Live entertainment is provided the merrymakers, with a surprise visit from Santa Claus announcing the freshmen officers. With a feature movie to round out the evening, couples part at the dorm with wishes of "Merry Christmas!" ringing in the air.

Moments of Rio

Helping the library to run efficiently. Angelia Johnson enjoys her work as a librarian's assistant.

Lindaire practice over for the time being. Cindy Jull enjoys a moment of relaxation.

Greg Baron finds Speech class drama practice amusing at times as Donny Elloway takes in the ~~situation.~~ Sleer.

John Durkin raises an inquistive eyebrow as he waits for class to start.

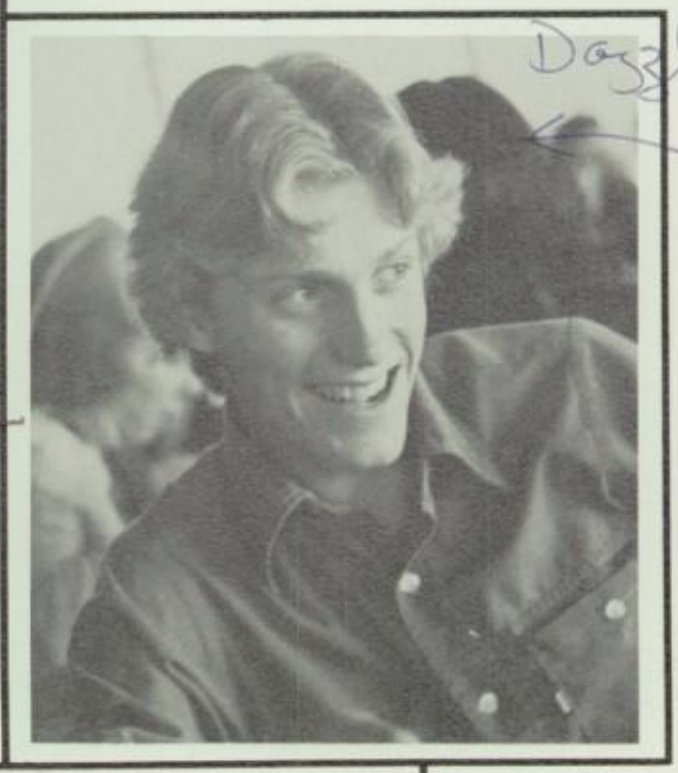
Pleasurable mealtime conversation brings a grin to the face of Jeff Meyer.



Taking attendance and keeping music books in order is part of music monitor Jerelynn Owens' job.

A break in the action gives Tom Nivison and Randy Davis a chance to make important calls.

Rio Faculty

Handling the tremendous amount of paperwork which goes into the making of grades is a job to challenge the hardiest of souls. Ever since Rio opened its doors, Miss Lester has been meeting that challenge in the finest of form.

Mr. Conley of the arts department displays some fancy footwork as he adds a new twist to an old trade.

Mrs. Warner holds two P.E. classes each day in addition to her duties as assistant dean of girls. Timing the mile-and-a-half is probably the easiest part of her job.

Joaquin:
It's been nice to have you around this year - both in the dorm & in class(es)! You're a sweet person, and I appreciate your help in the dorm & in class. You've given me several scares ("fainting" spells, etc.) but you seem to be fine & dandy just fine & dandy now. Happy summer is a happy one. Take care of yourself & you'll see you next year.
B. Warner

InTRAction

Exercising his powerful baritone voice, Mr. McManaman gives voice lessons as well as directing the Lindaires. Mr. Mitchell points out the vital parts of a distributor to his Auto Mechanics class as they learn the how and why of automobiles. Sophomore and Senior Bible teacher Elder Kainer demonstrates the complete self-control a teacher must exhibit if he is to be a good example to his students.

SMITH-CORONA

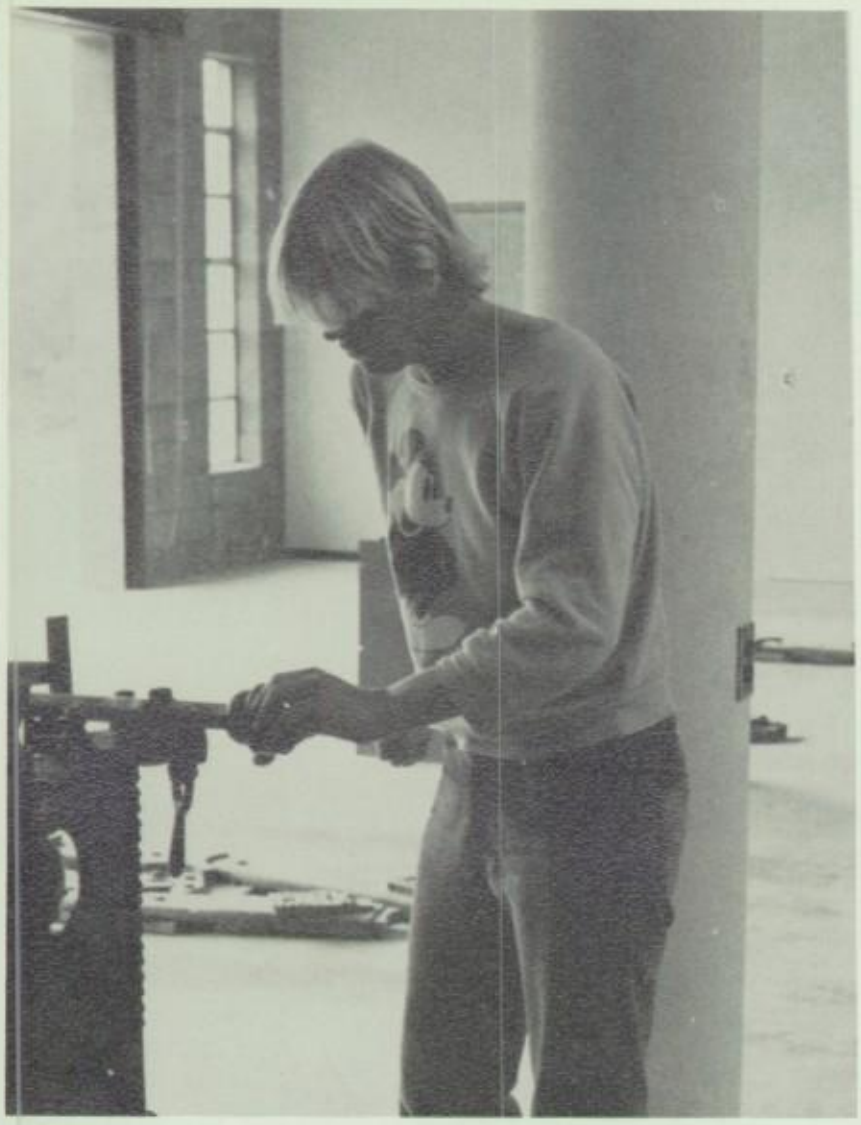
Go Butthead!!

Work

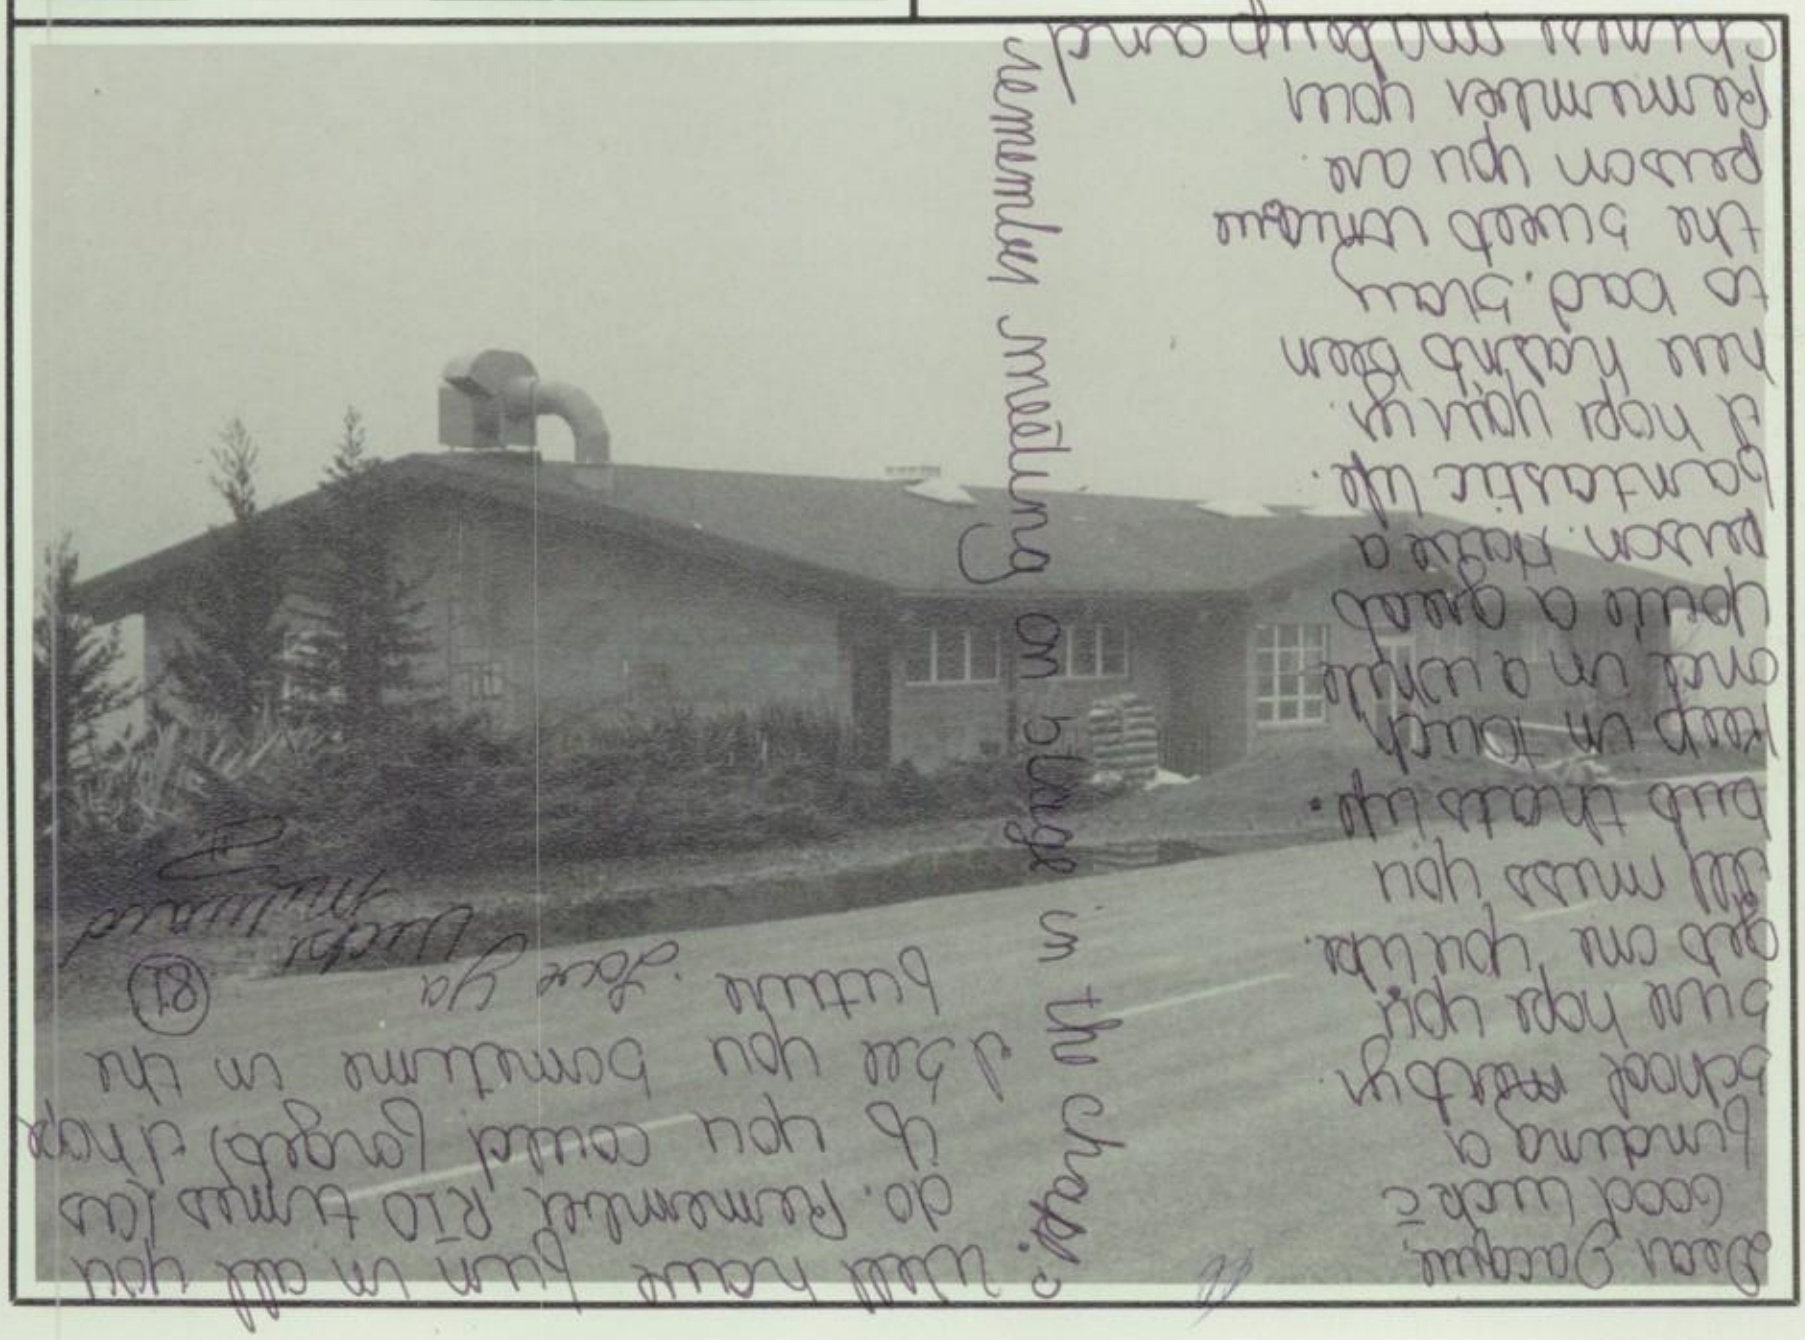
*Sometimes a pleasure, at other times a pain—but always a change from the daily round of classes—*work is an important part of life at Rio. People such as Michel Cordellos in the business office, Melody Smith at the laundry, and Daron Wilson in Maintenance keep campus life moving smoothly. Jeff Llopis and Steve Littlefield work on beautifying the grounds while one of David Hanson's skills is manning the monitor's desk. Harris Pine's umbrella factory is the largest on-campus employer, with workers such as Cheryl Wellman and Laurie Meintzer helping to create next summer's shade.

Industrial Arts

Begun back in 1976, work has progressed rapidly—so rapidly, in fact, that at the start of the year, some classes were already meeting in the building. The advantages this new building holds over the previous accommodations are almost too numerous to list. For example, a built-in vacuum system transports sawdust and automobile exhaust into an outside disposal bin, keeping the building clean and neat. The well-planned lighting makes operation of latches, jointers, table saws, and other machinery much easier and safer. Cabinents, tables, and other furnishings are being constructed in a cabinet making class created for this purpose.



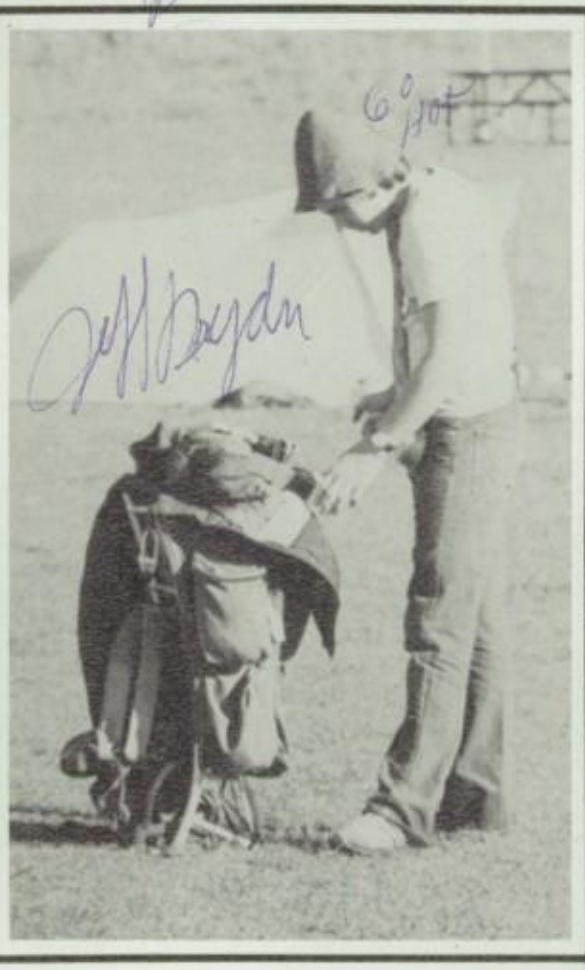
Finally—an Industrial Arts building of our very own! The new facilities it provides are a welcome change for Auto Body, Woodworking, General Shop, and the other classes, which up to this time, had been held in the maintenance department's shop. There are separate rooms for electronics and mechanical drawing, with the major protion of the upper story houses two hydraulic lifts, machinery which has given Auto Mechanics a needed boost.



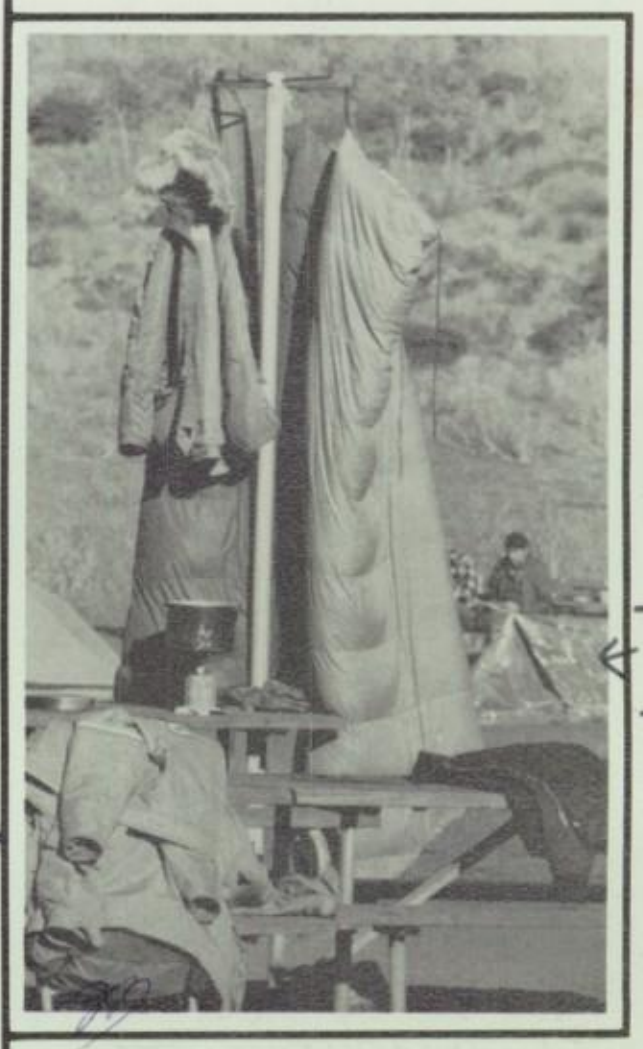
Backpackers
to Point Reyes

Looking for a change of pace, about forty members of Rio's Backpack Club head for Point Reyes. Five miles of hiking brings them to a cliff overlooking Wildcat Beach. After the confusing business of figuring out how to pitch a tent is dealt with, supper is quickly consumed. A campfire and a hike along the beach usher in the Sabbath.

Aromas of breakfast drifting through the morning air are the only agents capable of convincing the campers to forsake their warm sleeping bags and venture forth into the new day.



Dear Jackie Sorry I didn't get to know you better this year but, hopefully you'll be down at MBA! Be good and stay out of trouble this summer if you can! Love Pastor Mark



That's my tent. LL

Down on the beach, Pastor Mark Williams, the leader of the club, holds church services with God's handiwork providing an inspiring sanctuary. The afternoon is filled with hiking as students turn explorers.

Mike Volkov seems to think running is better than walking, even if he is carrying a fully-loaded pack. Jeff Dryden contemplates the impossible, but always accomplishable, task of loading his backpack, while Sharon Whitehurst liberates some offending rocks from her shoe.

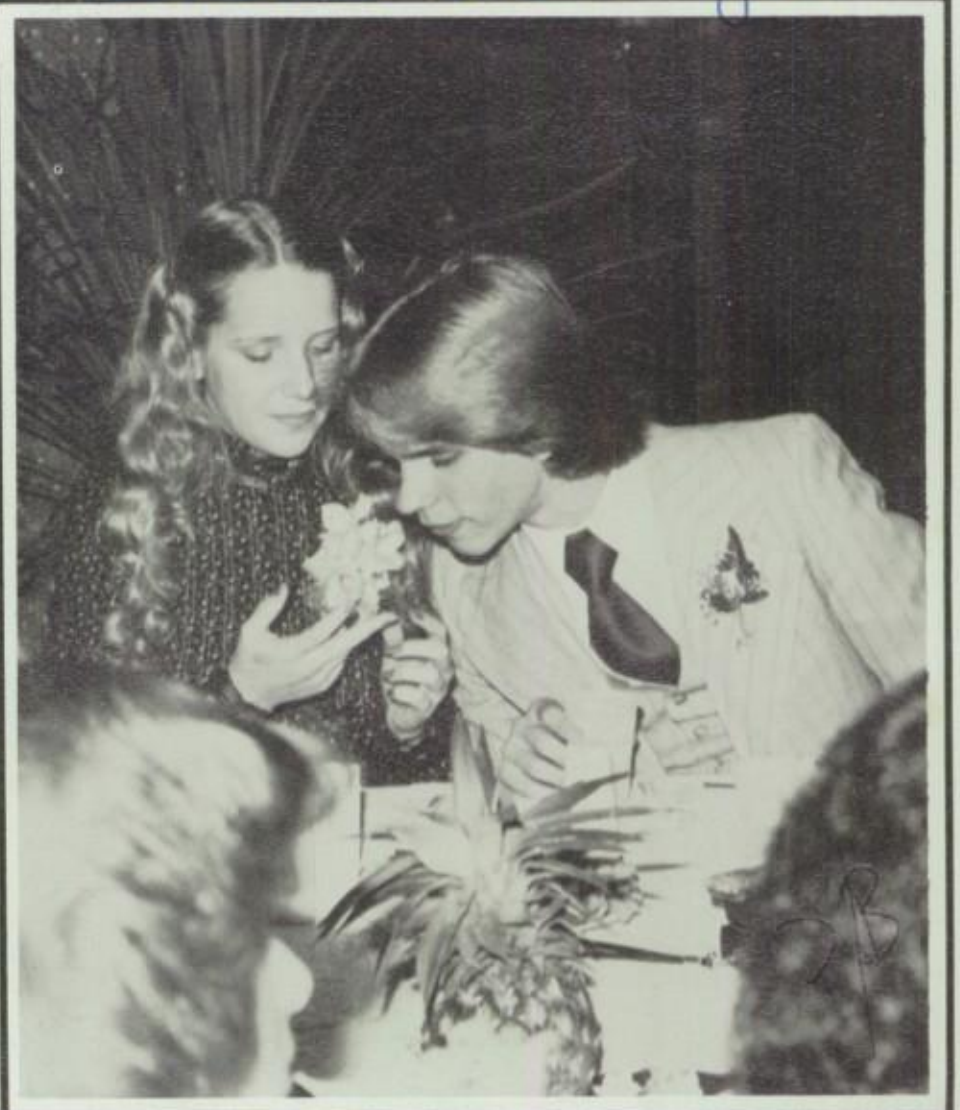
An oceanside cave is the location for evening vespers, followed by a hot dog roast. A good night's sleep, and another five miles later, weary but happy backpackers pile into the school bus to return to Rio.

Junior-Senior Banquet

1978



The Junior-Senior Banquet is heralded by a flurry of activity as the Juniors out-do themselves in preparing the gala event. Pineapple centerpieces and a smoking volcano lend a Polynesian flavor, with the crowning touch being provided by the Kalua Band. "The Hawaiian War Chant" and "Pearly Shells" entertain the banqueters as faculty members bearing trays of food and drink glide amongst the tables.

Hors d'oeuvres, entrees, and desserts disappear, seasoned with liberal doses of conversation. When dates and their escorts have eaten their fill, all adjourn to the main chapel, where awaits the hilarious and imaginative Walt Disney film The Love Bug. Afterwards, farewells for the evening are made, with fond memories accompanying the students to sleep.

What role does God hold at Rio Lindo Academy? He is the very reason for its existence. Rio's entire program revolves around providing a Christ-centered education. It is not simply theoretical material which is taught here; the practical side of religion is the most important part. It shows itself in meetings such as the Communion Service, where we are reminded of the price Jesus paid to save us. It shows itself in prayer and the study of God's Word. It shows itself each day in the way we act toward each other as we help one another to live like Christ.

Dear Jacquie,

We've had alot in common this year with them nigey boys & all it's been a real experience. Remember Marriota, that was a blast we'll have to get Bobie Brothers together sometime again & go. Be sure & write this summer.

Harris Pine—

Harris Pine Mills provides not only a good source of income for Rio's students—some have worked their entire way through school—but gives them valuable work experience as well.

Redwood and Umbrella Divisions

The school's largest employer, Harris Pine Mills takes redwood lumber and, through various stages of sawing, drilling, and staining, transforms it into parts ready to be assembled into lawn furniture. Umbrellas and cushions are produced at Harris Pine Umbrella, the sister plant on campus. The finished products are sold through such nationally -known outlets as Montgomery Ward and the Emporium, as well as being featured in the magazines Sunset and Better Homes and Gardens.

Lindaires

The finest of Rio's voices are brought together in Lindaires under the direction of Mr. McManaman. The Lindaires take their talent on tour throughout the school year, bringing music and God's Word to churches in all parts of California.

Such performances do not come easily. Four times every week the Lindaires meet to practice. Even during their retreat at Albion they set aside time to sing. But it is not all hard work. They take time off for relaxation and fun, which at Albion comes in the form of canoeing, good eating, and general mischief making Spreading the Good News through the avenue of music—this is the role the Lindaires hold as witnesses for God.

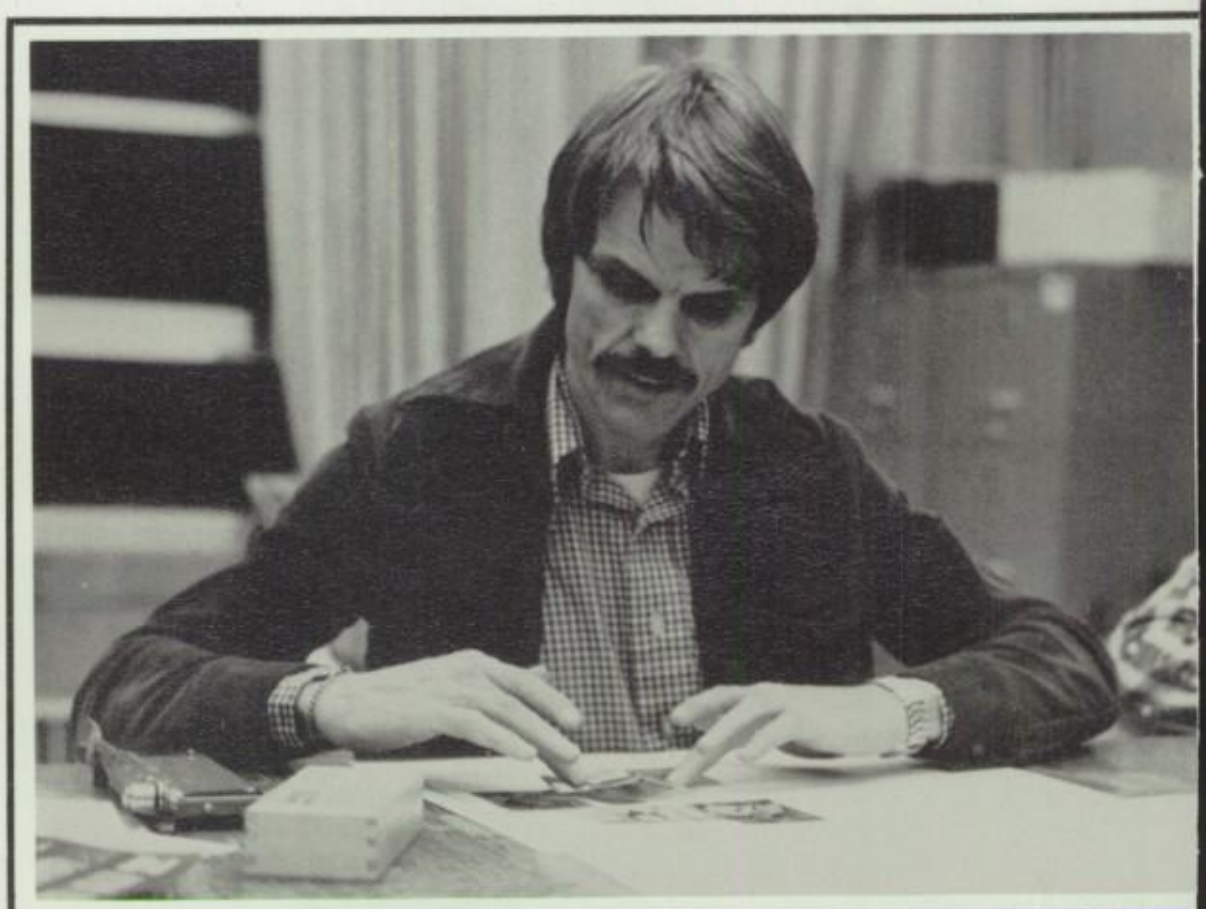
WIND ENSEMBLE

We, the staff of the 1978 El Rio, dedicate this annual to Alonzo Lang, a man who is himself dedicated.



Graduated from Pacific Union College with a B.S. and later a Masters' degree in Music Education, Mr. Lang is the prime mover behind instrumental music at Rio. For the past ten years he has been the director of Wind Ensemble, one of Rio's most widely heard and best-known organizations. He has taught the joys of music to hundreds of people, both in concert and in individual lessons.

AN A.....

TWOIE...

In addition to this, Mr. Lang has served as sponsor and advisor for both the 1977 and 1978 editions of El Rio. His advice on copy and layouts has proven invaluable, as have his photographic talents. All of this has aided us to such an extent that we, as yearbook staff members, are honored to dedicate this annual to him.

Champaign '78

Who are the best representatives of the Rio Lindo student body? Trying to provide the answers to this question, Campaign '78 swings into high gear. Beginning with a joint chapel presenting public debate on school issues, candidates for the offices of A.S.B. undertake the task of convincing the students to cast their votes for them. The high point of the meeting comes when the contenders for the presidency, Mike Volkov and John Reeve, present their speechs outlining their ideas for a better A.S.B. The next day, the poster blitz begins.

Campaign posters come in all sizes, with sayings varying from the sublime to the ridiculous. Do these artistic endeavors actually influence students votes? The only answers must come from the voters themselves—and those answers will not be known until Election Day.

It's our Senior year and here we are waiting to graduate. When it's all over, we'll share our memories of the number on the hill, the tours we went on, and the ski trip. We'll talk about banquets, and classes, friends, and jobs. Then we'll go our separate way never to reunite. We are a people dedicated to the service of God - always striving to serve better. We are the Seniors of 1978! ! !

Dear Jacquie,
It has been a really crewed up year!! It was nice getting to know you anyway. I'll stay super blond
+ stay sweet. You have a really unique summer

You've been a good friend to me this year. I really appreciate people who are as nice as you. We've spent a lot of happy times together, and I hope we never forget them (Ha-Ha)!
I hope you make it big in life and I hope the man you marry is good enough for you.
Well good luck in the future.
Love always,
Linda Goodrich

TRISH

Jacquie,

Your such a "spaz" and that's a great part to have in your personality. Being around you is always fun whether it be for fun or serious talk. You've helped me realize that I need to get on the ball because I sometimes am not with it when I should. This year has had it's ups and downs - maybe more down than up, but It will be a memorable one for the most part. I wish you would come back and graduate with us next year as "Big Seniors" but I guess everybody can't "have their cake and eat it too" huh? (Not that Rio is a cake, but you know what I mean!) Jacquie please be good and develape a strong self-respect for yourself, you're a somebody, more so than alot of people here at Rio. You won't be forgotten next year I asure you because you were a spark here on campus that kept alot of people going, including me, and for that you're Loved by quite a few people. You want me to write more, but you want your annual back before the weekend so, ... please be yourself (lovable) and I pray that God will bless you in everything you endeavor for.

dreams! Live the life you've imagined!

HENRY DAVID THOREAU

Love ya lots,

Doug Diaz

P.S. I still think its 36-24-36!
